KLAMATH FALLS (Or.) Sept. 6.—Ten persons known to have been burned to death here early today when fire swept the Houston Hotel and part of the business district, with property loss estimated at more than $300,000. Four other persons are unaccounted for and the police believe they may have perished.

It was thought that many more may have perished, for the cremated parts of many bodies were reported visible in the embers.

IDENTIFIED DEAD.
MRS. LOTTIE VILDERBACK, Ashland, Or.
MISS MARGARET HANLEY, Chamberlain, Klamath Falls.
CHARLES HARMAN, Klamath Falls.
SHADRICK.

UNIDENTIFIED DEAD.
A list of about 17 years old, from Medford, Or. Four men. Sixteen bodies are believed to be in the ruins of the hotel. Seven guests are suffering from injuries sustained by jumping.

MOTHER SAVES BABY.
Mrs. Mary Campora, to whom a baby was born only three days ago, threw the infant from a hotel room window into a blanket held by rescuers when the first equipment arrived. The baby was uninjured, but Mrs. Campora sustained a painful hurt.

The bodies taken from the ruins, four others have been definitely located but the heat was so intense rescue was impossible late today.

All the deaths occurred in the hotel building. It is estimated that close to 100 persons were in the hotel at the time. The flames were discovered about 3 o'clock this morning. They gained great headway before water could be thrown on the building, a three-story frame structure. Guests were great when the first equipment arrived. They were seen to fall back into the blazing building.

STARTED IN RUBBISH.
The fire had its inception, fire officials say, in a pile of rubbish beneath a back staircase. It ate into the frame fabric of the hotel, the flames enveloping the entire building within a few minutes.

Leaving the street, the fire communicated to the Houston Opera-house and a frame business block. Before it was checked it had consumed nine buildings, including the hotel, opera-house, three lodge houses, two business structures and two residences.

Klamath Falls was crowded with hundreds of visitors who had come to participate in a Labor Day celebration.

Some of the buildings destroyed besides the Houston Opera-house and hotel, owned by J. A. Houston, included the Pioneer Printing, owned by J. W. Houston; Argaves Rooming-house; Denver Rooming-house, owned by P. L. Houston; three residences, one owned by W. W. Copeland and two by Mrs. J. Langtree.

Alleges Profiteering Prices Are Fixed by Mutual Understandings.

Would Reopen Dissolution Case; Implement Dealers Are Accused.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The International Harvester Company of Chicago and other big manufacturers of farm implements, together with farm implement dealers, were branded a "gigantic profiteering trust" in a report by the Federal Trade Commission made public today.

In an investigation ordered by the Senate the commission found that the manufacturers and dealers fixed alleged profiteering prices by mutual understandings in restraint of trade and that the dissolution of the International Harvester Company, negotiated by former Atty. Gen. Gregory, is a sham.

WOULD REOPEN SUIT.
The commission's formal recommendations which will be transmitted to the Department of Justice are as follows:

The commission believes that the International Harvester case should be reopened as provided for in the final decree, so that a plan of dissolution be arrived at that will restore competitive conditions in the harvesting machine business.

CONCLUSIONS SET FORTH.
The commission's findings are set forth by the commission as follows:

Farm implement manufacturers and dealers in concerted action advanced prices in 1917 and 1918 by means of the larger than warranted by the increase in their costs and expenses, and this resulted in unusually large profits for those years.

In spite of the great increase in farm implement prices the farmers were not prevented from making as much profit as before because the prices of farm products increased to an even greater extent.

The partial dissolution of the International Harvester Company in 1918 did not change the dominating position of the company, and the harvesting machinery line and will not do so while the McCormick and Deering plants and the steel business remain under the control of either directly or by common ownership of stock.

PRICES INCREASED.
The commission finds that manufacturers' prices of farm implements to dealers increased 22 per cent during the period 1914 to 1915, while dealers' prices to farmers increased 22 per cent and says there was no general shortage in the supply of farm implements, nor was there any unusual demand, especially because of the decrease in the number of machines exported and the more extensive repairing of old machines to meet the increase in domestic requirements.

The alleged price boosts were brought about by concerted action of the manufacturers and of the dealers.

"Practically all important manufacturers of farm implements are members of the National Implement and Vehicle Association, which was formed in 1911 by the union of several existing farm implement associations.

The present association has thirteen departments covering the more important lines of farm implements. The general offices are in Chicago.

The association and each department has its own president, secretary and executive committee. These officers and committees carry on most of the active work of the association. All of them except the secretary of the main association are officers or employees of the member companies. There are two other associations of some importance—the Southern Wagon Manufacturers Association and the Carriage Builders' National Association. The membership of the three above-mentioned associations overlap to a certain extent.

ADVANCED PRICES.
Under cover of bringing about uniform cost accounting, uniform terms of sale and standardization of product the manufacturers who are members of these associations have repeatedly advanced prices of farm implements by concerted action during the period of 1914 to 1918, inclusive.

The associations received assistance in maintaining prices after the armistice from the implement trade journals and from the Agricultural LONDON, Sept. 6.—A dispatch to the London Times from Liege, Belgium, quotes David Lloyd George, the British Prime Minister, as saying that if guarantees are given that the murder of policemen in Ireland will cease the Premier is convinced that Lord Mayor MacSwiney and the other hunger strikers will be released from prison. Other special dispatches tend to confirm the Times' interview.

On leaving the prison tonight Father Dominic, the Lord Mayor's chaplain, reported:

"Lord Mayor MacSwiney is fading away. The alteration in his countenance since my visit this afternoon was very noticeable."

NO PROMISES MADE.
According to the Times, the Premier said not a single appeal for clemency offered the slightest assurance that such killings would be stopped.

He added that the unconditional release of the imprisoned men would be disastrous to the morale of the Irish police and make government in Ireland impossible.

DAILY TRAGEDY.
Each day as the fast of Lord Mayor MacSwiney in British prison progresses, there is staged by the bedside of the dying man a tragic little act, which was disclosed today by Father Dominic.

Every morning food in some form or another is brought in by the prison authorities and offered to the starving prisoner in the hope that his almost uncontrollable craving will master him and that he will be tempted to eat. Every morning there is the same end to the act—MacSwiney, who is too weak to utter a spoken refusal, crushes his desire and turns his head away. So it has gone on until the twenty-fifth day of his hunger strike has been reached.

NO FOOD IN WATER.
There have been many rumors that MacSwiney was being given sustenance in drinking water or otherwise. This is denied by relatives.

Interurban Flyers Running at High Speed Hit in Head-on Smash.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
DENVER, Sept. 6.—Ten persons were killed and seventy injured when two interurban cars collided head-on on a curve just outside of Globeville, a suburb of Denver, this afternoon. Tonight all but one of the dead had been identified.

The dead included Frank Crayth, 54 years old, of California.

A special car and trailer carrying a load of holiday pleasure seekers to Eldorado Springs, a well-known resort, collided with a regular car returning on the Denver and Interurban Railroad.

According to officials at the Globeville station, the conductor of the outbound car failed to obey orders to stop at Globeville for the incoming car. This car was a two-minute behind schedule and was running at high speed to make up the time.

At least two persons were killed when they jumped in an attempt to save themselves, according to T. F. Richards, a witness at the scene, who was on the inbound car. One of these was Conductor C. W. Grenadier, 49 years old, in charge of the car.

Four of the dead and many injured were from Louisville and were on the car coming to Denver. As soon as word of the wreck was received here, a squad of soldiers here in connection with the tramway strike was rushed to the scene.

Conductor J. W. Schultz, in charge of the outbound car, declared that he received orders from Globeville to proceed. Agent Richards at Globeville declared that Schultz must have received the wrong orders, as he should have waited for the inbound car to pass him at Globeville.

COX SPEAKS AT MINNESOTA FAIR

Discusses Cold Storage and Lauds Labor.

Declares League of Nations Not Political Issue.

Drives Famous Pacing Horse in Exhibition Heat.

ST. PAUL (Minn.) Sept. 6.—Gov. Cox, Democratic Presidential nominee, reached the Northwest today on his campaign tour. Three speeches in the Twin Cities, were on today's program.

Arriving here this morning by special train from Chicago, the Governor was tendered an informal reception by State Democrats.

After a brief conference with State party leaders, Cox and his party were escorted to the State fair grounds.

Tonight Gov. Cox talked at the Minnesota Armory, leaving immediately afterwards for Minn. N. D. GIVEN PICTURE.

After viewing the art exhibit, the board of governors of the fair presented to Gov. Cox the picture

"October Day in Minnesota," by Knute Helder of Minneapolis, which won the gold medals.

Gov. Cox began his address shortly before 1 o'clock and noted that Senator Harding and other candidates scheduled to speak here had given an equally warm reception.

In discussing the regulation of cold storage and profiteering, Gov. Cox said there were entirely too many turnovers between the producer in the country and the consumer in the city.

Trailing labor, the Governor declared that a great factor in the winning of the war was "the patriotic endeavor of labor everywhere."

REFERS TO LEAGUE.

Referring to the League of Nations with the statement that it was not a political question except when turned to partisan uses, Gov. Cox continued:

"Labor is vitally interested in the plan of readjustment which will be adopted. There are those who think the answer to present difficulties lies in adoption of plans of the past; that progress has gone too far. I am not of that class; I think the solution is in the dawn of a new day when the human soul and the human body shall labor for more than the sordid dollar."

"Labor Day came to be one of the milestones of the road of progress. But for progressivism, Labor Day could not have been. Reactionists would not recognize it. The reactionists are in various groups. They consist primarily of the holders of privilege, privilege conferred by law. Special privileges are aided by the extreme radicals, who propose things that are either unworkable or advanced ahead of their time. Labor should have the right to organize and through representatives of their own choosing negotiate collective bargaining. This right has never been denied capital. Care must be exercised that government at no time be made oppressive in maintaining the laws of the land. I have said that public opinion will settle industrial disputes, and to this end believe the government should provide for proper investigation in all cases, with provision for the filing of the facts without prejudice so that the public may have full information. The right to free speech and free press and the right of orderly assembly, guaranteed by the Constitution, must never be infringed."

Urging adequate remuneration for government employees, Gov. Cox said that if elected he would sign a bill granting the long-suffering and loyal postal employees the relief they so richly deserve in the way of appropriate and adequate wages.

Gov. Cox after an address dropped his political rop long enough to drive Peter Nash, 2:01 1/4 pacer, in an exhibition one-mile heat.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Fierce fighting is in progress around Hrubieszew, fifty miles southeast of Lublin, according to the Russian soviet official statement of Sunday, received by wireless today. The statement says:

"In the Hrubieszew region the fighting continues with alternating success. Along the western Bug, fighting continues north and west of Hrubieszew and south of Sokal. We are advancing on Hrubieszew."

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 6.—Alishah, a city in Asia Minor, eighty miles northeast of Aleppo, and the scene several months ago of a massacre of Armenians by Turks, has been taken by French troops. The city was held by two Turkish brigades.

French forces are marching on Marash, thirty-seven miles northwest of Alishah, and are meeting with resistance from Turkish Nationalist troops.

Gen. Baron Wrangel's forces have made another landing at Souciass, probably Sukhum-Kale, a port at the east end of the Black Sea, according to advice received here. The landing was preceded by the battleship Gen. Alexiev.

The situation of Gen. Wrangel's forces in the region of Souciass is improving, say latest reports. Gen. Wrangel is securing the cooperation of banks, which resisted the British. Gen. Denikin's anti-Bolshevik troops and others a year ago.

Cossacks found looting or requisitioning are promptly hanged by order of the commander and the soldiers are not permitted to occupy towns or cities where they are tempted to live at the expense of the population. These disciplinary measures are creating a discipline which is not lacking during Denikin's regime.

DRIVEN ACROSS THE DNEPR.

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

SEBASTOPOL (Crimea) Sept. 5.—The Fourteenth Bolshevik Army has been driven across the Dnieper after suffering several losses as a result of Gen. Wrangel's successful counter-attack.

The Bolshevik forces commanded by Commander Eldeman, were defeated and forced to take cover under their big guns across the Dnieper. The Bolsheviks are taking a stronger stand on the Taman Peninsula, between the Black Sea and the Sea of Azov, where an expedition landed by Gen. Wrangel was driven out. The Bolsheviks brought up a brigade of West Siberians, a Cossack division and other reinforcements taken from the reserves of Moscow and centers near the Polish front.

Eldeman's force consisted of 15,000 infantry and 2,000 cavalry, together with a rifle division and 10,000 troops, which attacked from the Kavkazskaya and the other in Kuban endeavoring to corner Gen. Wrangel in the Crimea and the Taurida Region are now held by 10,000 infantry and 12,000 cavalry. Gen. Wrangel has 60,000 men in his fighting units. The Bolsheviks are better equipped, but Gen. Wrangel's men are better disciplined. The latter are divided now into two armies, one in the Taurida district under Gen. Kulopov and the other in Kuban under Gen. Euglaglia, the cavalry leader who is operating in several raiding columns.

Mother-in-Law Plus No Homes Gets All Blame.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—Mrs. Julia McGuire, arbitrator in the Court of Domestic Relations and for fifteen years a student of Chicago's social conditions, is authority for the statement that mother-in-law and high rents are responsible for more wrecked romances than ever before in the history of the city. The shortage of flats, she declares, has driven scores of newly-weds to live with either the man's or the wife's mother.

Discord breaks the harmony of their new happiness almost immediately," said Mrs. McGuire. "These couples are coming to court daily in increasing numbers. These newly-weds own nothing, have not anything to tie to, and little differences soon are magnified into consequential in such an environment. The mother-in-law refuses to allow them to adjust their differences; they come to court. They place every obstacle in their way."

KILLED IN CAVE OF WINDS

Niagara Sight-Seers Die; Gorge Accident

Cave of the Winds, Niagara Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, Sept. 6.—[By the Associated Press.] Two women and a man were crushed to death and two men were injured today when a slide of shale forced out a bridge leading to one of the stairways in the Cave of the Winds, under Niagara Falls. A hundred or more tourists who were in the cave at the time had narrow escapes, many being bruised and cut by the falling rock.

The dead and injured were tourists just completing a tour of the cave. The party was in the middle of one of the four bridges in the cave when the slide came, its noise drowned by the roar of the cataract. The guide was not touched.

HAZARDOUS VENTURE TO RECOVER BODIES.

To recover the bodies of the dead it was necessary to take a row-boat from the Maid of the Mist steamer, which had been run up as near as possible to the falls and cave. It was a hazardous venture, but the rowboat crew finally brought the bodies out of the pool and regained the steamer.

The accident is the first of the kind in the cave since the first stairway was built in 1813. There have been slides before, but only in the winter or early spring.

DOMINATION OF LABOR OPPOSED

Active bargaining. I believe the labor union has combined to speed labor toward its just rewards. But I do not believe in labor's domination of business or government any more than I believe that capital should dominate the laborer. We have a right to that, and we learned the danger and danger it. We do not want to see the laborer, but we want to see the laborer put an end to class.

ON HIGH WAGES.
"Let me renew that public utterance in which I spoke of high wages and said I wished the existing high wages to remain, on one explicit condition—that for the high wages the American worker should be able to live the highest degree of efficiency. I am not advocating the driving, slavish period of toil, which even the most energetic, but I hold that the laborer, the laborer on the job, not only the greatest obstacle to labor's advancement, but as a check on his laborer more than he does his employer."

"It is utterly false to assume that labor and capital are in a deadly struggle. The big inspiration in life is to get on. When men tell you this is the privilege of the few, they challenge your intelligence."

"I am sorry the old, intimate contact between employer and employee is gone. I wish we could have the intimacy restored, not in the old way, but through a joint committee of employers and employees not to run the business, but to promote and maintain the mutual interest and the mutual understanding. Herein lies the sure remedy for most of our ills."

"We cannot have compulsory arbitration, because all parties must consent to establish arbitration and enforce its conditions. I think we can have and ought to have, voluntary arbitration. The best thought of the day commands this way of settlement."

"This brings me to the subject of railway legislation and the enactment of the Commerce-Each bill restoring the railways to the public owners. I am well aware that many earnest railway workers and advocates of the Socialist plan preferred to take the railways and put them under the operation of the employees, but that was not keeping faith with America or American promises. We were bound to make the return. I favor it for the additional reason that I do not believe in government ownership."

"I do not pretend to say the railway act is perfect. Indeed, I know it is not. It does not guarantee dividends, it limits them. It makes a six month guarantee, but that was to enable the stupendous financing for rehabilitation. Railway workers are made a professional class and the government has allowed out railway workers to see that their just treatment is a matter of public pledge. This is progress."

"This law does not contain an anti-strike clause. It does not interfere with collective bargaining, on the contrary it facilitates it."

"I want to see profiteering related and punished. It is a moral wrong and an economic robbery. Those who profit on profiteering, mostly dealing with petty offenders, do not deeply impress the country, and the government which add a million to our sugar bills for a year is not indicating a know-how which will bring the bungees to hold the job."

BARNETT'S CASE CAUSES COMMENT

Demoted from Rank With no Reason Given.

Application for Vacancy is Without Result.

Assigned to Command Marines on Pacific Coast.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The recent demotion of Brig.-Gen. Barnett from the rank of major-general of the Marine Corps, and the fact that no action has been taken on his application for appointment as major-general to fill an existing vacancy is exciting comment in navy and Marine Corps circles. The interest is heightened by the action of Secretary Daniels in assigning Gen. Barnett to a newly created post on the Pacific Coast.

Gen. Barnett was originally appointed to the position of major-general commandant, on Feb. 25, 1914. When his term expired in February, 1918, while the United States was actively engaged in the World War, he was reappointed to another term of four years with a proviso that the period of service could be terminated at the pleasure of the President.

GIVEN SHORT NOTICE.
In June, after having served a few months more than half of his four-year term, Gen. Barnett was notified that he was detached from the office of major-general commandant, and that Brig.-Gen. LaJeune, who had commanded the famous marine brigade in France, and afterwards the second division of the American Expeditionary Forces, would be appointed to the vacancy. Gen. Barnett was given only a few hours to decide whether to go on the retired list as a major-general or remain in the active service with the reduced rank of brigadier-general, his permanent grade in the Marine Corps.

DECISION DEFERRED.
In addition to the major-general commanding the Marine Corps has one major-general with permanent rank. Gen. Barnett made application for this permanent commission at the time he was removed from the position of major-general commandant, but the Secretary of the Navy deferred decision. Last week, upon the expiration of a leave of absence, Gen. Barnett reported for duty and was assigned by Secretary Daniels to command the marines at stations on the Pacific Coast. No action was taken at that time on his application to be appointed to the rank of major-general. The place still remains vacant.

Gen. Barnett elected to remain in active service with the rank of brigadier-general.

SCOTCH AND IRISH IN CLASH AT CELTIC PARK.

FIGHTING GENERAL AND BROWN HEADS ARE PATCHED UP BY DOCTORS.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The Calcutta Club, the largest Scottish aggregation in New York, arranged to hold its sixty-fourth annual games this year in Celtic Park, which is owned by the Irish-American Athletic Club. Word reached the Irish organization that the Scotch were in control and the former resented it. Small parties of Irish began to drift into the park and several fights took place. These were subdued without the police being called in, but by 6 o'clock fighting throughout the park was general.

Someone sent in an alarm to the Hunter's police station and the police used their clubs freely, but it was some time before they got the disturbance under control. Two ambulances were called from St. John's Hospital, but the physicians worked with several doctors in the crowd, and broken heads were patched up without the necessity of using the ambulances.

CHINESE PROTEST SALE OF ARMS BY ITALIANS.

ALLEGED AMMUNITION IS FURNISHED TO ENEMIES OF GOVERNMENT.

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
PEKING, Sept. 6.—Gen. Lu Yun Hsiang, military commissioner of Shanghai, has protested to the Peking government against the sale by two Italian warships in the Huangpu River, contiguous to Shanghai, of arms and ammunition to persons without authorization of the Shanghai military administration, according to a dispatch from agency dispatch from Shanghai.

The vernacular press of Shanghai protested vigorously against the sale, according to the dispatch, commenting that during the recent civil war around Peking, Italians sold arms to Gen. Tuan Jui's forces. These papers also charge that the Italian vessels were seeking to carry on the same with "fallen Anfu men and other doubtful persons for suspicious uses detrimental to the Chinese nation and people."

MURDEROUS GANG IN POLICE NET.

Self-Confessed Anarchist Said to be One of Leaders in Plot.

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE)
SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Sept. 6.—Grilling by Chief of Police Morris and August Loula, a Federal agent, today resulted in alleged confessions of Frank Kochinski, accused as one of two leaders in the plot to wreck the "Diamond Special" of the Illinois Central Railway and two others of the gang, who the authorities say, compose a murderous gang as has ever been arrested.

The self-confessed anarchist, Joe Dieguis, alias Joe Dozenat, the police say, is one of their leaders.

In Kochinski's home and homes of other members of the gang, literature preaching violence against society, a complete equipment for counterfeiting dollars, worms for illicit stills, an acetone plant and a fifty-pound box of dynamite were taken by police.

Information of the wreck plot was obtained by the Federal Department of Justice several days ago. A score of agents had been assigned to the scene of the proposed wreck, at a bridge over Sangamon River. There the gang, the police say, were to have located the four-hundred-pound acetone plant.

KANSAS CITY MAN EXPLAINS IRON BAR IN POCKET AND A CHICKEN.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
KANSAS CITY, Sept. 6.—Walter Schuyler, a patrolman not in uniform, halted a man giving the name of Cornelius Shroot, as he walked from an alley near Eighth and Holmes streets early today. Shroot, who said he was a teacher, carried a chicken beneath his coat and a short iron bar in his pocket. At police headquarters Shroot gave this explanation:

"As I walked through the alley a chicken jumped out at me. It fluttered its wings. I was frightened. I found the iron bar in the alley, then hit the chicken on its head. I became so excited I put the bar in my pocket. I was looking for the owner of the chicken when the policeman arrested me."

Shroot is being held.

A Living Trust—By Instalments

Every man who is well informed concedes the wisdom of establishing a Living Trust for himself, his wife or a relative for whom he wishes to provide.

But most men are deterred, because they cannot take out of their business or set apart from their private fortunes AT ONE TIME enough to accomplish this.

The "Bank of Italy Trust Plan" has awakened a new interest in Living Trusts because it confers the advantages of this method on men of ordinary income. It enables such men to accumulate a safely invested fortune and put it on a growing basis.

Our time is at the disposal of any who wish to inquire into the advantages of this Plan. Be sure and talk it over with us; also, read our booklet, the "Bank of Italy Trust Plan" for creating and enlarging an independent estate."

Cutting the Gordian Knot

"WHOSOEVER loosens the Gordian Knot shall rule all Asia." So ran the ancient proverb. But the wisest heads and the deftest fingers failed to unravel the knot until Alexander the Great cut it in twain with his sword. The Gordian Knot fell before the most direct method.

So it is today in business. Business knots and business problems yield to modern methods and devices. You perhaps may find an Alexander's sword in The Neostyle Addressograph, the Acme Visible Index or in the installation of some other modern office appliance or system.

For sixty-four years H. S. Crocker Company has rendered business men a service, made modern from year to year, that has earned it the reputation of being California's leading stationer and printer.

H. S. Crocker Company has built up its good reputation, too, by always having on hand a most complete stock of stationery, leather goods and office appliances; maintaining one of the largest printing, engraving and lithographing plants in the West, and an organization whose watchword is "Service."

Park Bearing Name of French Patriot Dedicated With Dual Exercises in Presence of Large Crowd.

Lafayette Park was formally dedicated yesterday with colorful patriotic exercises commemorative of the anniversaries of the French patriot's natal day and of the first victory of the French republic.

In the presence of several thousand spectators, eulogy was read to the memory of Lafayette in song, story and verse; tribute was accorded the valor and heroism of the French poilu, and America's indissoluble friendship for France was pledged anew to the inspiring strains of "La Marseillaise" mingled with the "Star Spangled Banner."

For his assistance to the struggling colonies, Lafayette was remembered as the "father of the French republic," because of his love for and devotion to the cause of freedom, justice and liberty. Lafayette Park was dedicated to his memory, that it may be known now, henceforth and forever as Lafayette Park.

At the Wellington Road address State Inspector Bowen and Police Detective Sergeant O'Brien and Yarrow say they found a number of fake stock exchange and race track forms and a suit case filled with contraband opium.

Buck refused yesterday to make any statement and at once sent for an attorney. However, he informed the officers following the raid, they say, that the bunko outfit had been packed away in his suit case since he came to this city more than a year ago.

SOCIETY.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

For Mrs. Jordan.

A large affair planned for Thursday in the tea at which Mrs. Charles C. Carpenter is to entertain in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Lambert Jordan. Col. and Mrs. Jordan, who are now stationed in San Francisco, have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter at their beach cottage at Redondo Beach all summer and have enjoyed many hospitalities down there.

For Gen. and Mrs. Wilcox.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Kidd of 214 South Harvard Boulevard was the scene of an interesting event—the sixty-fourth wedding anniversary of her parents, Gen. and Mrs. John St. Wilcox. Mrs. A. E. Kidd and Mrs. Robert Pitts assisted in receiving. Mrs. Leonard Siver, sang "Love's Old Sweet Song," "Heart Throbs" and other songs. The white kid shoes with five-inch French heels, worn at Mrs. Wilcox's wedding and her big white fan, with old daguerreotypes and a miniature painted at that time of the bride were on exhibition and much admired. Gen. Wilcox is a Civil War veteran, orator, banker and a distinguished man. He is serving his second term as president of the Octogenarian Club and most of its members were there. Mrs. E. L. Longner of Pasadena, who was a guest at the wedding more than half a century ago, was present last evening.

By Mrs. Brunswig.

Mrs. Lucien N. Brunswig of West Adams street was yesterday hostess at a luncheon prior to the LaFayette day celebration at Lafayette Park. Her honor guests were Admiral and Mrs. Spencer Wood, Miss Marguerite Wood, Miss Anna Riedon, Rev. Father Paul Eichen, Lieut. George Le Messager and Capt. Paul Perigord. Miss Riedon is a schoolmate of Miss Marguerite Brunswig from Placerville, Calif., and has returned with Miss Brunswig, who has been her guest for a month. They witnessed the snake dances of some of the Indians on their reservations near-by.

Mrs. Childs Home.

After a summer at Piedmont and San Francisco, Mrs. Stephen Vincent Childs and children, Ozo Childs, Jr., and Enelle Childs have returned home.

Supper-Dance.

One of the brilliant events of the early autumn was the supper-dance given last evening in the ballroom of the Bryson Apartments by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seaver in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walke Hubbard of New York, who are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Kimball Stearns of Beverly Hills. There were 300 guests and a large number of prominent society matrons assisted. The supper room and drawing-room were decorated with baskets of rich colored dahlias.

For Col. and Mrs. Shunk.

Mr. and Mrs. Delos A. Chappelle of New York are interesting visitors here and were hosts at a luncheon in honor of his cousin, Col. William A. Shunk, United States Army, and Mrs. Shunk. Col. Shunk, who is now stationed here, is one of the best-known cavalry officers in the Army and wears six of his medal ribbons showing his distinguished service in six wars of the United States. Mrs. Shunk has attained distinction as a writer in oriental countries, having published several books. Mr. and Mrs. Chappelle will, no doubt, receive much social attention while here.

For Bride-elect.

Miss Anne Margaret Cooper, a bride-elect, was inspiration for a luncheon and shower at which Miss Ruth Cheesman was hostess. Yellow and white flowers were used to adorn the house and table. There were ten guests.

Mrs. Overholser.

Mrs. Henry Overholser, a prominent matron of Oklahoma, who is here for the winter with her charming daughter, Miss Henry Ione Overholser, is entertaining. Mrs. Guy Kimball, also of Oklahoma City, who is arriving today, on Thursday Mrs. Overholser is to give a tea in her honor and will have among other guests, Mrs. Thomas Phelps, Mrs. Alonso Key, Mrs. Ed T. Cook, Ed Cook, Jr., and Miss Overholser.

For Miss Blincoe.

The music reception given Sunday evening in honor of Mrs. Rowena Blincoe, by Mrs. Edith Lillian Clark was one of the interesting affairs in society. Three hundred guests were there including many celebrities. An interesting feature of the program was the first public hearing of Charles Wakefield Cadman's "Legend of the Canyon." Mrs. Clark also played. Mrs. Marshall Stookey Anderson, Mrs. W. K. Chambers, Mrs. Henry Henderson and Miss Carolyn Handley assisted.

For Bride-elect.

Miss Ruth Taylor, a bride-elect, was honor guest at a smart little tea given by Mrs. Howard Henshey on Saturday afternoon.

Dinner Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Records, Mrs. Adeline Steigler, Miss Grace Steigler, Harvey Records and Andrew R. Steigler were among the guests at a dinner party given by Mrs. Jane Blake on Saturday evening at her home at 2081 West Twenty-eighth street.

Personal.

Dr. and Mrs. George C. Butterfield have returned from a motor trip to San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Swearingen and Mr. and Mrs. Mattson A. Morrill are enjoying a two weeks' outing at Water's Park in the San Bernardino Mountains where they have a cabin 6850 feet above the sea in a forest of cedar, pine and oak on the shore of Big Bear Lake. Horseback riding, fishing and boating and dancing in the evening furnish diversion. They are now entertaining a house party of sixteen guests from Los Angeles, who will be with them a week.

Miss Lillian Treashe of Tucson, Ariz., who has been visiting her cousin, Miss Virginia Fay of Los Angeles, will return to her home this week.

Mrs. Walter Reynolds Mitchell of South Bonnie Bree street leaves next week for an extended eastern trip. While in New York she will be the guest of Mrs. Maurice Krakow on Riverside Drive. In Chicago she will visit her son, Earl Elven Spencer. Mrs. Mitchell is well known there in musical and club circles.

The Wickercraft

Wickercraft furniture is a beautifully designed hand wrought line of reed and rattan furniture. It affords all the charm and distinction of hand made furniture with a moderatness of cost not to be found in other lines of hand work.

Beauty That Is More Than Skin Deep

—The Wickercraft Company of Pasadena are the makers of this attractive furniture, and they have won for it a reputation that is carrying it into the finest homes of the southwest. Only the highest grade materials are used, hard wood for the frames, and extra selected reed from Borneo for the weaving.

—All parts used in this furniture, such as table tops, etc., are made in the Wickercraft shops and each is given the careful attention and finish that results in a perfect whole.

—The rocker and chair pictured are desirable for their lightness of weight as well as for their simplicity of design and comfortable construction. We have this design in both reed and rattan.

Keep Your Blood Pure Nature Will Do the Rest

Did you know that ninety per cent of all human ailments depend upon the condition of your blood? Nature gives her warnings in various unmistakable ways, so that when the appetite fails, and you become weak and listless and a general run-down condition seems to take possession of the whole body, it is an unfailing sign that impurities will steadily accumulate until your general health will be seriously affected. You should recognize the importance, therefore, of very promptly cleansing out the system, and keeping the blood supply pure and robust.

For this purpose, no remedy can equal S. S. S., the fine old blood purifier that has been in constant use for more than fifty years. Being made from the roots and herbs of the forests, it is purely vegetable, and contains no mineral substance. Get a bottle of S. S. S. at your drugstore to day, and note how promptly it builds up the appetite and gives new strength and vitality. A PER USUAL.

As now that the housewife has most of her fall canning fled away in the cellar the price of sugar is tumbling down. Can happen.

ROME BREWING.

If the Mafia, the Camorra and the Bolshaviki are fighting for domination in Italy the man who does as the Romans do when he is in Rome will probably stand up and howl.

THE TIE THAT BINDS.

There are said to be a number of young people who purpose to celebrate Anniversary Day and leap year as a double-header—that is, they are going to be married next Thursday and take a chance on the future.

GREEN MOUNTAINS FADE.

The population of Vermont underwent a shrinkage of 1 per cent during the last ten years. This is the first State to show a falling off in the census. In the absence of anything else they are blaming it on prohibition and the splitting up of the maple sugar industry.

SAFETY FIRST.

Chairman Hays predicts that Harding and Coolidge will have 346 electoral votes to 185 for Cox and Roosevelt. This seems fair enough, but Republicans need not stay away from the polls in the belief that the thing is all over. The chairman's announcement is based upon the presumption that most Republicans will do their duty.

FUME DAY.

Gabriele d'Annunzio wants Italians here to celebrate next Sunday as the anniversary of his occupation of Fiume. It is a long time for an Italian poet to stay in one place, for a fact, and Italians who have nothing else to celebrate next Sunday may raise a few "vires" for Fiume just to show that Woodrow Wilson is not the whole thing.

THE YELLOW BOYS.

Five million dollars of French gold forms part of the cargo of a single ship which left Havre yesterday and is the first payment on the return of the Franco-British loan. Although this loan has been largely refunded, a procession of gold in this direction across the Atlantic is promised. Possibly we may again catch an occasional glimpse of the gold that used to be regular food for the human eye in the days before the war. Although the yellow stuff was quite the thing and there are lots of people in California who were brought up on it altogether, there is a 6-year-old child in town who never saw a double eagle.

PARROT TALK.

Gov. Cox declared that the coal men had been asked to contribute $60,000 to the Republican campaign fund. It is believed that the coal operators might be able to wrench that sum from their bunker without shedding blood. In any event it hardly seems a sufficient reason why the people should elect Cox instead of Harding as their President. As a political incident it isn't half as savage as the act of administration officials in taxing some of the girl stenographers $40 apiece for the benefit of the Democratic campaign fund. Gov. Cox could train a parrot to speak more effectively than himself on this "is too" phrase of small-bore politics.

THE FLYING MAIL.

The introduction of the regular aerial mail service between New York and San Francisco is a forward step in the annals of Mercury. Doubtless American airmen would be found to be more suitable terminals; but San Francisco will answer for a jump-start place for the present. It is understood that the Los Angeles cross-country service will be established within a short time, anyhow, and connecting routes are already in operation. But the Atlantic and Pacific flying mail is a notable achievement in the world of wonders and serves notice that the nation is capable of getting away from the sluggish policy which has been applied in coping with the problems of air transportation. During the war we were "all up in the air" when we should have been up in the air, but to keep on mixing things it might be said that we are getting back to earth again.

IN DARKEST CHICAGO.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., declined to speak before the Hamilton Club in Chicago because of his sentiments toward Mayor Thompson. He wanted to say what he thought about him, but the national committee wished to keep out of the State fight and so young Roosevelt thought it best to cancel his engagement altogether. Col. Roosevelt's distinguished father once declined to break bread at the same Hamilton Club table with Senator William Lorimer. At that time the Lorimer invitation was officially withdrawn and Roosevelt finally appeared, but Mayor Thompson is still in the saddle in Chicago and can even command the consideration of the Hamiltonians. Mayor Thompson occupies a peculiar position. Although the Republicans of the United States have repudiated him he has a totemal grip on the Chicago machine that cannot be priced loose.

"MARSE HENRY'S" MINT.

"Marse Henry" Watterson is one of the typical Americans who will continue to live for at least a generation after he is dead. He wrote editorials for the Louisville Courier-Journal for more than a quarter of a century and has published a volume of personal memoirs; but some of the most poignant and possibly the strongest things which he has written exist in the form of personal correspondence and will not be published during his lifetime.

Col. Watterson was the heart and soul of the Courier-Journal, which was so dominated by his personality that he was generally believed to be the owner and publisher. As a matter of fact, he never owned but a small amount of the stock of the publication; but the paper was so popular and the property so profitable under his editorship that his personal opinions on the leading questions of the day were synonymous with the policies of the Courier-Journal.

There came a day, however, when the men who had labored with him for the glory and the prosperity of the "New South" during the reconstruction period were dead; when the majority of the stock of the paper passed into the hands of the younger generation and when new owners sought to impose their policies upon the veteran journalist; and that day precipitated an explosion that tore into shreds the organization of the Courier-Journal. Perhaps the new owners were not to be blamed. They sought to keep the publication abreast the trend of thought of the new era; to discard the sectionalism and the prejudices in which were embodied the picturesque and the chivalry of the old South.

The old order was passing; but Col. Watterson refused to join the procession. If Dixie was to be engulfed in a tidal wave of new ideas, "Marse Henry" would go down with the ship. He would stay by the tattered ensign and let those who would take to the lifeboats.

Col. Watterson fought every threatened invasion of the home as savagely as though his own domicile were attacked. He clung to the belief that a woman's name should seldom appear in the columns of the daily press except when she was married and when she was dead; and when the women organized a political movement for universal suffrage he combated it with all the verbal weapons in his armory. To him the very word suffrage was filled with venom. Being a shameless Bolshavik with his skin as thin as a soap bubble, he was not averse to the editorial columns of the Courier-Journal waved in the vanguard of the anti-suffragists like the plumes of Henry of Navarre.

About the same period the advance guard of the prohibitionists moved upon Kentucky and the dark day came when prohibition enforcement officers were detected slugging about the mint bed in "Marse Henry's" garden. Col. Watterson, dressed in his battle uniform and entered the editorial sanctum ready to repel the invaders. On his desk was a brief communication requesting him to attend a meeting of the board of directors of the Courier-Journal. There he was informed that the new owner was a leading advocate of prohibition, that his wife was an ardent suffragist and that they had made a peremptory demand for a change of policies in the newspaper.

Col. Watterson, in the highest esteem; they had no desire to depose him; but they were constrained to request him to modify his editorials in conformity with the trend of the times and the opinions of the owners. While he had been guarding his mint bed other hands had pulled down the ensign.

"Marse Henry" received the deadly thrust without wincing. He was too chivalrous to rush into print with a denunciation of the new owners and the changed policy. He expressed his dissent with an epithet as conclusive as that credited to Cambronne on the night of Waterloo, and retired. Later, he wrote to the new owners his resignation, embodying in it a few personal observations concerning prohibition and woman suffrage. Two or three persons who were fortunate enough to see a copy of that letter said it was "Marse Henry's" masterpiece. But it will not appear in "public print" while Col. Watterson lives.

That resignation was the last broadside of the torn but unyielding chivalry that died fighting, like the Spartans at Thermopylae, when prohibition and woman suffrage swept over the South. After it was written "Marse Henry" broke his pen and threw his inkwell out the window in the direction of a suspicious character, still slugging about the mint bed in his garden. Happy the next generation that will read something superior to the "Lad of the Ancient Mariner."

"DE CHAMP."

Jack Dempsey, champion of the intellectual pugilists, defended his title so vigorously yesterday that his Middle-European challenger lasted less than three rounds. In eight minutes of actual fighting "de Champ" won the prize of three sport suits and two porthouse steaks, also a place in the headlines of newspapers published in thirty-five countries and thirty-two languages.

Prize fighting has been denounced by the reformers as savage, brutal and barbarous. They have condemned it, legislated against it, penalized it, done about everything to it short of making it unpopular. Granting that everything said about the pugilist is true, the undisputed fact remains that when the man who wears the belt that once orbited the abdomens of Sullivan, Corbett, Fitzsimmons and Jeffries comes to exhibit his physical prowess he is the most popular single attraction in the country.

Culturists have not been able to wean the populace from its admiration of the human brute. There are still cranks in the enamel of modern civilization through which the cave man continues to issue. More people made the pilgrimage to Benton Harbor yesterday to see the champion defend his title than visited the Senate chamber during the entire time the peace treaty was under discussion. Little money changed hands on the result—for it was only a question of how long the contender would last—but the interest in all civilized countries was intense.

Brer Rabbit and the Tar Baby.

con. And the American people, who are occasionally called upon to defend their free institutions with physical strength and endurance, are many of them, brazenly proud of him. It may be unusual, but it is human nature. Perhaps the fault lies with the secret fountains of human instinct, which is seldom as moral as the reformers think it should be.

Dempsey still wears the belt which has been in the custody of an American for two generations; but a new challenger is already on the way across the seas. Georges Carpentier, French aviator, war hero and pugilist, will land in New York this week, looking for trouble. He has beaten the British and Scandinavian champions like so many dusty carpets; one man stands between him and the world championship; but the American sporting talent is in no wise intimidated. They are willing to wager American dollars against French francs, regardless of the low price of foreign exchange, that the championship belt will remain in America.

THE CHEERFUL OUTLOOK.
 When there is a greater demand for a given article than there is a supply of the article in demand the price goes up. When the demand is lessened or production overtakes it prices go down. This is called the law of supply and demand and it is as immutable as the often-misquoted law of the Medes and the Persians. There is another great natural law called gravitation and more inelegantly expressed in the phrase, "what goes up must come down." Having established our authority, The Times cheerfully predicts that, based upon the "statistical" in such cases made and provided, high cost of living is in for the jolt of a hectic and misapprehension.

Old Mother Earth has been laboring exceedingly great these past few months and has brought forth such crops as to send the skulking wolf kicking from the door. Bumper is the word most frequently used in describing them. They almost approach the war-year crops when we had half of Europe and a great army and navy dependent upon us.

This year Europe is standing alone and beginning to walk. France has made a remarkable recovery and is producing almost enough food to supply her own requirements. Great Britain is securing something approaching normal supplies from her colonies, and even Italy is not asking much in the way of food.

This means but one thing; plenty for the home market. The wheat crop is estimated at 800,000,000 bushels. The corn crop may go as high as 2,000,000,000 bushels. Potatoes, hay and tobacco show improvements and the crops will be larger than first estimates indicated. Arizona will produce her greatest cotton crop, and the farmers of the Salt River Valley will have fifty or sixty millions to spend when the harvest is in, with imperial not far behind.

National conditions are reflected in California, where 100,000,000 embryo bushels of wheat are waving o'er countless fertile acres. This State is producing 750,000 tons of barley. Tons, mind you, not bushels, and a great hop crop is estimated at 180,000 tons, enough to drown every home brewer in suds. Most of this crop is already sold to Great Britain, where the Eighteenth Amendment means no more than the whisper of a turtle dove in a Bolshavik convention.

These are merely examples. The list is too long to enumerate. There are practically no crop failures this year. The point is that supply is catching up with demand, and when the harvest is gathered in, as it will be soon, there will be mighty little excuse for continued high prices of some of the staple articles of food.

CHURCHES, MINISTERS.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

Churches and the ministry are the occasion of much argument and controversy just now. Ministers are said to be leaving the church by thousands and there is a marked decrease in students for this holy profession. Various writers, notably John Spargo in the Christian Century, are declaring that in many sayings of a preacher is a superficiality, that sermons are out of date and out of popularity, that the regular Sunday services would be better without them.

As a whole the preachers appear to be on trial and there is a marked disposition to make them shoulder all the blame, although it is conceded that in a general way they are woefully underpaid. The failure of the interchurch drive for a hundred millions is taken as evidence by some that Christianity is on the wane, that humanity has ceased to turn to it for guidance, strength and consolation.

But, as a matter of fact, most of us know in our hearts that Christianity is as strong as ever and that a vast number of people who, perhaps do not necessarily go to church are Christians in heart and habit. I should say that the person who could be found ready to voice and proclaim an absolute repudiation of Christianity is very rare. The world is passing through a hectic transition stage, the painful readjustment process. It has been difficult for the church to march with the times, because its foundations are rooted in the past, imbedded in traditions—and the times are so swift withal. Just the one fact of woman's suffrage is an upheaval for the church. The new woman is a hard, obvious, permanent fact and nothing like the docile creature of inferior mold for whom the church was wont to cater and for whom the church held so many disabilities. But she is not a worse woman, more capable, more self-reliant, more educated and more productive. It is so difficult for the church to accept her and her new standards, but it is also much more difficult for her to accept the church and its old standards. Not that she has less religion, less Christianity at heart, but that the officialdom of Christianity seems so prejudiced against her, so critical, so ready to saddle her with all the responsibilities of modern immorality without conceding the responsibilities of helping to improve them. In short, the church still regards her as a "subject" instead of a "citizen."

Then again there is the question of the cost of living. This has naturally reflected back upon the church—and its ministers. The minister's lot was quite difficult enough before, but with short rations and unavoidable debt it became insupportable. Yet he was God's work, trying very hard to do God's work. The vast majority of ministers are sincere, most surely be sincere of any kind of profession. Still, even so, they could rarely count upon receiving as much freedom, conceded as much liberty of action as a government clerk. The system by which a minister is responsible to his congregation, under its economic control, intensely dependent upon it, made of him rather a servant than a teacher. It is this condition which has made his sermons open to such criticism as John Spargo deals them—the pitiful necessity of "pleasing his congregation" instead of "pleasing God." Lays to them, helping to enforce them, and not alone specializing in consolation, blessings and pleasant services at birth, marriage and death. Naturally a first-class, capable man of high intelligence and religious devotion found such conditions insupportable. He could bear his pecuniary woes with a certain fortitude, but when it was coupled with petty subordination, an everlasting necessity for trucking, no wonder he struck.

Perhaps, after all, it should be the churches and their congregations that should be on trial. Some churches and congregations must actually be accepted with dread and foreboding by their pastors. No matter what the dazzling remuneration offered, pastors must accept some "calls" with dreadful misgivings. We all know churches that seem incapable of keeping the peace, that divide into counter-factions. And when one of the trumpery causes of these disputes is a quibble over the profession.

The church as a whole is fully alive to these complications and every conference shows an honest endeavor to meet them. But the individual churches, especially in the smaller communities, so often do not show this appreciation of changed times and conditions. The supreme necessity for co-operation, good will, mutual consideration—and the pastor's perennial embarrassments.

The pastor's job is one of the most exacting extant. He is not only required to be a good and holy man, an educated man, a supremely tactful man, a gentleman, a heavenly leader, a paragon of father, but he is also required to be a business man, a brilliant bargainer, a flatterer, a diplomat, a politician, a clever organizer, a community servant, a social light and a forward harasser of the petty details of church affairs. He must be interested in all his parishioners' affairs and yet avoid and discourage gossip. He must be ever ready to disgorge sympathy to the needy and the afflicted, and yet himself be a glittering example of untarnished virtue, but at the same time not be too exacting about the virtues of his parishioners, especially those chiefly responsible for providing the church income.

So long as these conditions persist, so long as he is servant rather than master of his congregation, so long as the functions of his office call for larger secular ability rather than godliness and so long as the reward of his labors is so meager in cash and so boundless in trumpery exactions, so long will the urgent need readjustment be delayed and ministers despair of their profession.

And so long as the church clings to the traditions, conditions, customary by-laws, conventions, stories and understandings of the Middle Ages, so long will there be more Christians outside the church than in it.

SNAP SHOTS FROM TEXAS.
 Mr. Peavish says that, although he doesn't believe Mrs. Peavish is at all catfish, still if he were a woman and wanted to get a certificate of character from her he would wear false nose.

Another reason why we have to do this instead of making real money writing ads for the department stores is that we never can remember whether "Georgette" is a kind of material, a style of dress or a state of mind.

TO INEZ MILHOLLAND.

October 24th, 1918.

BY PAULINE BARRINGTON.

There must be a sacrifice of youth On the altar of truth To suffice!

We were crowded close that night To hear her speak; To hear her plead for suffrage. In that murky place, High above us, shone the blazing white Of her tall, slim grace And her face.

It was her throat, being human, That gave way under the work it had to do.

Under the pleading for women, That they should go free, With equal right, to fight The fight for life.

The silence was so heavy It was thick. The crowd straining To hear her talk.

When in a great, clear voice, she said: "There is no liberty. . . . And dropped, as a lily When its stalk is out, In a swoon, near to death."

But she came back, holding her throat With one hand, and laughing— With short, quick breath. Her head high and cried, "Don't blame it on my being a woman. Every man may have a sore throat!"

She seemed close—a sister—a friend— She went on to the end. And in a day or two she died.

Oh, the youth of her! Oh, the passion of her! Oh, the swift, sure light!

A TOAST.

California needs no eulogy. She speaks for herself! And although her language is different from that of her sister States, she is nevertheless understood by all, for her utterances appeal to every emotion resident in the bosom of humanity.

Her mountains, lifting their mighty peaks upward unto God, speak to the weary sojourner words of strength and endurance and he imbibes into his very soul a sense of peace divine.

Her desert, stretching wide its arms to receive the sun, offers to his soul long cramped within the narrow limits of space, interminable stretches of open country, whose freedom and vastness when once enjoyed is never forgotten, for its lure is enduring and eternal.

In the language of rhythm California also speaks. For is not the beat of the calm Pacific, like a beautiful song, set to the meter of the tide?

A community song, which brings delight to old and young alike. And, above all, California talks to humanity through the medium of color.

For where else could one find so vast a garden spot? When one reviews her offerings to the reader upon her soil—The peace of majestic mountains—The lure of desert country—The rhythmic beat of ocean—All this enclosed in a frame of bright sunshine and balmy breeze—The peace of the Pacific—The lure of the desert—The rhythmic beat of ocean—Count themselves, of all peoples, most truly blest.

Because herein their work is played—their toil is rest! MARGUERITE G. HEDGES.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

THE SKUNK.

Each night around my seaside dwelling there roams a skunk; at break of day the whole charmed neighborhood is smelling of Jockey Club or New Mow Hay. I know not why this midnight vagrant should always to my cottage steer; I only know he renders fragrant a hundred leagues of atmosphere. I would not in this way be hunted were it a lion or a bear; for I'm of courage, high, undaunted, and I would avenge it to its lair. Oh, bring your fierce man-eating tiger and it'll face me never quail, and chase it to its native lair. Tiger and lion can to its tail. I'll meet in any man's arena the fiercest brute the world can dig, the warthog and the wild hyena, the polar bear and the grizzly bear. No man can say I am a quitter, but all my courage seems like wind, when comes that aromatic critter, with increase from the storied land. Which shows, my friends, that circumstances will alter cases, now and then; and when some sort of doom advances the grit fails in the bravest men. Call me not craven if I tremble, say not that all my boasts are humbug; my inward fears I can't disguise, I will not try to kill the skunk.

WALT MASON.

THE SMALL TOWN RULES.

The small town rules America because, instead of being a place of hotels, restaurants and amusements, it is a place for normal living—where men walk home to lunch from their offices and now their own cars; where families and communities retain, cherish and transmit traditions. There beats the heart of America.—[Omaha Beat]

Both Had a Good Time.

A boy and a girl visited on a farm this summer and were told they must write to their parents. The little girl wrote pages about the beautiful scenery, flowers, fruit, pet animals, etc. The boy grabbed a book and dashed off the following: "Grandma is a bully cook. I am having a good time eating. Dinner is ready now. Good-by."—[Arkansas Thomas Cat.]

WANTS AMERICAN DYE INDUSTRY FOSTERED.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—The American Chemical Society today passed resolutions expressing regret that Congress had not passed legislation adequately protecting American dye manufacturers and urging that such legislation be passed. Speakers declared that such legislation was needed not only to prevent Germany from dumping her output of dye in to American markets, but to weaken her military strength. It was pointed out that the same chemicals used in dyes are used in explosives and poison gases and that encouragement of Germany's dye industry gave her a latent military strength.

The Symbol of Autumn Days

—Not in many a year has there been such a charming diversity of weaves to welcome the new season, and not in many, many seasons has there been such a decided but altogether delightful change in the colors fashion-sponsored. Just a year ago this autumn everyone was enthused over the then new henna and copper tones and the warm shades of brown and beaver. Exactly twelve months later our attention is held fascinated by the wonderful variety of bewitching Chinese blues and greens as well as a most pleasing series of soft squirrel tones, interesting dark browns and restful forest greens.

The following are representative of the most complete collection of fashionable, new fall woolens Blackstone's has ever shown at the beginning of a season.

—54-INCH SUEDE DE LAINE $6.95—a soft suede fabric with nappy finish, in a good range of popular shades; has ideal draping qualities suitable for gowns and evening capes.

—54-INCH DUVET DE LAINE $8.50—a season's experience of this handsome fabric has convinced our customers of its unusual wearing qualities. The soft mat finish, its pliability and the precise weights for folds and trim plating distinguish it from several weaves.

—54-INCH BOLIVIA COATING $12.50—a most luxurious cloth in the soft pliable effects so well adapted to the present style garments.

—54-INCH SKIRTING PLAIDS $7.50—the very latest autumn and winter fashion ideas in the even and broken plaid patterns—alluring color combinations.

—40-INCH CHIFFON VELVETS $10.00—promising to be one of the favorite dressy fabrics for fall wear, this handsome velvet is eminently desirable for rich gowns and wraps. It is a soft, supple quality, of exceedingly pretty finish and excellent draping qualities. It is shown in a full range of rich, new shadings.

MODART CORSETS

—"First the corset—then the gown" is always the rule of the woman who makes a study of fashionable apparel.

—The new fall Modart models still further reveal the fact that this corset is without an equal as a figure-shaping garment. It is beautifully designed to mold the figure into lines of symmetry and will maintain these lines when once developed.

—All Modart corsets lace in front because front adjustment means right adjustment. The absence of laces in the back gives better form and wonderful smoothness in gown fitting.

—You will be assured of being properly corseted if you select your new Modart in our corset section. When you have selected the correct Modart model and have been fitted by our expert corsetiere, you will feel so much better and look so much better that you will seem to have become a new woman.

—There are new lamp standards in bewildering variety, dignified or elaborate designs in mahogany, gold and iron. Many are hand decorated to be in harmony with different rooms.

—New book-ends and candlesticks, handsome in scores of different ways imported and domestic pottery and glassware.

—Mirrors of every description, one of the most comprehensive assortments to be found anywhere. Plain, hand-carved or decorated. These mirrors are shown in the Spanish, Italian, French, colonial, Asian and other types.

—The collection of framed and unframed pictures includes many copies from the old masters. Blackstone's makes a specialty of framing pictures and making mirrors to order.

FIFTH FLOOR—BLACKSTONE'S

Blackstone's Autumn Suits

—Delightfully interpreting the high degree of Smart distinction attained in line, garniture and workmanship

—The woman who selects her new suit this season at Blackstone's, need fear no regrets later on—rather will she be overwhelmed with self-satisfaction and the admiring comment of her friends. It would seem to be, after careful study, next to impossible to err in choosing a suit at Blackstone's this Autumn of 1920.

—In all of these fashion favorites the beauty of fabric has been given high consideration, as is evidenced by such lovely materials as Velonde, Veldyne, Duvet de Laine, Tricofino, Arabian Twill, Poirer Twill, Silver-tone, Cashmere, Paluchia and imported sports plaids. Trimming strikes a note of brilliance in the use of silk and wool embroideries and braid, and of luxury with rich furs. Some of the new colors are Zanzibar, Bedouin, Malay, Couture, brown, twilight, Suchow, Siberian Squirrel, Raccoon, Madeira, Chinchilla and moonstone.

—PRICES RANGE FROM $65.00, $75.00, $85.00, $95.00, $110.00, $125.00 up to $400.00.

THIRD FLOOR—BLACKSTONE'S

Autumn Hats

—Exquisite examples of the refinement of creative genius, eclipsing all previous seasons in fashion-splendor and brilliance of assortment.

—The model pictured is of rich black velvet. It is really a small turban and the tabs which extend at the sides accentuate the size. A wide double-faced ribbon is used to soften the lines.

—Stunning hand-made hats of fine Lyon's or panne velvets, hatter's plush, silk duvetyne or combinations of velvet and satin or velvet and duvetyne, make up autumn's most strikingly beautiful display of high-class millinery.

—Many hats are irregular in line, either in the shaping of the brim or the crown.

—Continental, Napoleon or tilted turban effects are shown in profusion.

—The crowns are sometimes pinched to corners in two, three or four places and large soft crowns, sectional and otherwise, are much in evidence.

—Tams are developed in all sorts of different effects, many going to the large extreme lines.

—Some of these hats are self trimmed or a jet pin for a black hat gives the finishing touch.

—Fashion's newest, fairest hats in all their beauty of design and artistic detail—black and all colors.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Labor Market Broader; Money in Hops; Olives, Oranges and Gasoline.

BY CHAPIN HALL

An advance copy of the monthly business review appearing in the Armour magazine says that extreme caution characterized activities of industries during August.

Buyers were uneasy last month from now they might find themselves stocked with goods and supplies for which they would be able to obtain from their customers. Producers and manufacturers, however, too, this hesitancy on the part of the general public to spend its money with its previous position of abundance and demand alive to the increasing costs of labor and transportation, refused to decrease production, which had marked their efforts six months ago.

As sales of extravaganzas decrease, by just so much will capital be released for use in the production of essentials, and as that production increases, the price of them should decrease.

Another factor which cannot be overlooked in this process of readjustment is the beginning of a changed status for labor. The tide of immigration has strengthened. The Department of Labor announces that 900 immigrants are now coming in daily. It is stated by the department that 80,000 immigrants arrived in the United States the year ending Aug. 31, 1919. For the corresponding period of the previous year only 141,131 arrived.

This means a gradual increase in the available supply of labor. Probably it will not have any effect—certainly not immediately—on wages, but it will go far toward making every worker more willing to put in a full day's work. It will help cut down the expensive turnover of labor which industries have had to battle since 1917. In the packing industry there is no lack of efficient help.

As a matter of fact the Employment Bureau of Armour & Co., is turning away men who are applying for work, day after day, and for the first time since the war, lines of men waiting at an agency waiting to file their applications for work.

The Franklin Motor Car Company has announced the abandonment of a six-day week production program and has gone on a four-day basis. Some motor car companies have virtually stopped production, and that is added to the cessation of work which marked other industries during the previous month. This must have its effect upon labor, since it is being done, in the final analysis, because industries, such as the automobile industry, cannot take a chance of reducing the cost of their commodities by production beyond a saturation point, while labor costs and material remain high and give evidences of going higher.

The results are almost the same as if wages were lower, inasmuch as the labor—skilled or unskilled—who worked for those plants, is not getting six days' pay between Monday and Monday. Where a month ago a skilled worker went home with sixty or seventy-five dollars in his pocket each week, today he is going home with ten or fifteen dollars less. It all presents a situation which will be interesting and instructive and is all a part of the scheme of credit deflation, which is bound to be unpleasant, even if it remains gradual in its operation, as it is today.

MONEY IN HOPS. Prohibition has not hit the poor hop grower very hard, according to the Financial America, which has been investigating the matter. In 1918 when prohibition was under discussion hops were selling at 25 to 30 cents a pound, and the grower declared that when prohibition was accomplished he expected to burn his crop or feed it to the hogs.

Through the 1919 crop the price hovered around $1.10 a pound, and the crop was 8,000,000 bushels heavier than in 1918. The home brewer and the foreign consumer is responsible, and the demand seems likely to increase. Altogether there is every indication for the hop grower to stick to his job.

POSTAL SAVINGS INCREASE. Postal savings deposits are showing an average increase of about $10,000 per day, evidence that the period of careless spending is waning. A considerable portion of the money being deposited is coming from persons who have not been in America many years. The immigrant generally has more confidence in a government than in a private bank. It is another sign of the times.

OIL STOCKS DECLINE. California crude oil stocks amounted to 24,406,000 barrels at the end of July, the lowest point at which they have been since August, 1919. This is a decrease from the first of the year of 8,074,000 barrels, or a loss of 19 per cent. Supplies of crude have been declining in California since the beginning of August, 1919, when they were 32,850,000 barrels, which, compared with the latest figures, shows a decrease of 37 per cent. This situation compares with 1914 when stocks were $1,500,000 barrels.

Mexico at present is shipping approximately one-third as much oil to the United States as it was in 1919, when it was 3,200,000 barrels. Production in the United States is at the rate of approximately 480,000 barrels annually, and the Mexican shipments are at the rate of 150,000 barrels annually. In 1918 Mexico produced approximately 12 per cent of the country's oil supply, but is now producing approximately 35 per cent.

PINIS FOR SUBTREASURY. The subtreasury of the United States will soon be a thing of the past. A committee has been appointed by the Treasury Department to work out plans for abandoning the nine subtreasuries. Under the law they go out of existence June 30, 1921. Most of the business will be taken over by the Federal reserve banks. The nearest subtreasury to Los Angeles is in San Francisco, where the abandonment will mean that a building costing more than $100,000 besides the massive vaults and the real estate will become vacant.

CITRUS CROP MOVEMENT. Two thousand cars of Valencia oranges are reported left for shipment after September 1, against 1,362 cars last year. The increased freight rate on a box of oranges is figured at 38 cents. Citrus growers get the worst of both freight raises and the tariff. Under the protective tariff of 1909 the duty on oranges was 1 cent a pound and 1 lemon, 1 1/2 cents. Under the free trade tariff of 1913 the duty on both is 4 cent a pound. Under the present tariff the duty is said to be $1.16 less than the freight rate.

THE OLIVE CROP. The olive crop this year looks like there,

JAPAN STUDIES FOOD PROBLEM.

Feeding of Population Grows More Difficult.

Every Bit of Land Cultivated to Capacity.

Seek to Induce People to Eat More Wheat.

(A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.)

TOKIO, Aug. 12.—The gravity of the food question in Japan finds its echo in Japan, where the problem of how to feed the population, which is increasing annually by 600,000, is becoming yearly more pressing. Japan has ample living space for its people, but cannot produce enough food for them, especially rice. Every bit of land is cultivated to the limit of its capacity. The land of Formosa, the island colony, is worked to its full capacity by the two million Chinese farmers who cultivate the rice fields with great skill. In Korea, also, the grain harvest is considerable, but the failure of the Koreans to use fertilizer prevents greater harvests.

HEAVY RICE IMPORTS. To meet the food menace Japan, by a special arrangement, has imported rice from Indo-China. This is a costly operation, however, the Japanese government losing $10,000,000 last year in supplying Indo-China rice to the Japanese people at a moderate price.

A solution to which the government is turning its attention is that of inducing the people to eat less rice and more wheat because of the great wheat fields of Manchuria, which would be ample as a food supply, if the people would eat wheat.

GREAT GRAIN FIELDS. The enormous output of Manchuria is handled by the South Manchuria Railway, which at the same time transports yearly some 300,000 Chinese coolies from Shantung province to Manchuria, where they labor in the great belt extending south from Jikutsuk and Omak is a wonderful grain field. If regularly cultivated, capable of helping in the solution of the world food problem.

"The great grain center of Winnipeg, Can.," said a leading Japanese business man to the correspondent, "is fair to be rivalled one day in world importance by the city of Harbin, on the border of Manchuria and Eastern Siberia. Harbin is admirably situated to handle the grain arteries of the Far East and I predict a great commercial future for that city."

BALM SUIT DROPPED. Lost-Jury Action Adjusted Out of Court Following Reconciliation.

Coincident with the assertion that the lost-suit of Elmer J. Coffey against H. P. Tatum, an automobile dealer, had been adjusted out of court, it was stated yesterday that Mr. Coffey and his wife, Mrs. Marie Coffey, have become reconciled. The lost-suit was dismissed by Mr. Coffey's attorney, H. B. Eddie and Oscar M. Gipson.

Worthy of Serious Consideration

When a security that is fundamentally sound is further strengthened by an unconditional guarantee which places behind it vast resources of diversified wealth, little need be added concerning the dependability of that investment.

The issue of Sutter Basin Company Land Mortgage 6% Serial Gold Bonds is such a security.

It is fundamentally sound because inherent factors of strength are found in the land securing these bonds. Of the 55,122 acres owned by the Company, 45,654 are completely irrigated and practically all under cultivation. The soil is especially productive of such crops as beans, rice, melons, grain, fruit and truck vegetables.

These factors make the assurance and dependability of this security practically unassailable. We recommend this investment to you because it offers you in the highest degree soundness and high yield.

Call at our office today, write or phone for full information contained in descriptive Circular T96.

Hog Island Ship Yard

The Yard is Near Philadelphia, Pa.

Scaled bids will be received up to October 30, 1920, 10 A. M., in offices of the U. S. Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation, Supply and Sales Division, Sixth and B Streets, S.W., Washington, D. C., and then opened in the office of the Board in the presence of the CHAIRMAN.

HOG ISLAND HAS an area of 946 acres, water frontage of two miles, 22 warehouses, approximately 86 miles railroad tracks, 21 miles of roads, 50 shipbuilding ways, sewage and drainage, 7 steamship piers, administration, record and telephone buildings, shop buildings, power, air, electric, steam, water and oil lines, dockyards and fire protection.

The four-story concrete warehouse and the twenty-two wooden warehouses have a total floor area of approximately one and three-quarter million square feet. Each warehouse is served by a railroad track and has a platform adjoining a street for its entire length.

The wooden warehouses are equipped with brick fire walls every 30 feet and fire protection.

The 86 miles of railroad tracks serve the 146 acres of material storage yards, designed for the storage of any material that can be left in the open. The seven outfitting piers are one thousand (1000) feet long each and one hundred (100) feet wide. Each pier carries four railroad tracks of standard gauge with the necessary cross-overs in addition to two Gantry crane tracks.

Each of the piers is equipped with four-self-propelling gantry cranes with sufficient clearance to permit the operation of standard locomotives and cars. In addition each pier is equipped with two locomotive cranes, and Pier B with a bridge crane, span of 115 feet and lifting capacity of 100 tons. Between piers there is 266 feet of clear water space, which permits the docking of four ships in each pier.

Each pier is provided with high pressure water mains, hot, oil, electric and compressed air lines.

The storage yards are wired for electric light and used for water and air.

There are 50 ways—40 wood, 10 concrete—each equipped with 22nd-stiffed derricks. Hog Island also has 11 electrically equipped pumping stations, 75 miles overland piping, over 75 miles underground cables, 45 miles of water main, with the other appliances, facilities and equipment, undoubtedly provides it with the fundamentals for a modern shipyard and storage yard.

Detailed inventory, blueprints, photographs and other data have been filed in the office of the Director of the Supply and Sales Division, 6th and B streets, S.W., Washington, D. C., and may be seen by prospective bidders during business hours. Permits for inspection of the yard may be obtained on application.

Bids must be submitted in duplicate on standard proposal forms, made in the manner designated therein and enclosed in sealed envelopes marked "Proposal No. 3007, to be opened until October 30, 1920."

Proposal forms may be had at any of the sales or distribution offices. Bids must be accompanied by certified check, made payable to the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation for $1,000,000.

This amount will be applied upon the purchase price of the successful bidder, but in the event that the bidder fails to consummate the contract of purchase the amount of the purchase price is to be paid within a reasonable time, not exceeding in any case five years from date of award. Preference will be given bidders covering short periods of payment, other things being equal. Possession of the property will be given upon completion of the present construction program, about February 1, 1921.

It is to the property will remain in the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation until full payment has been paid.

The Corporation reserves the right to reject any or all

Speculation and Investment

The man who buys stock with the hope of making a quick fortune is gambling with almost no chance of winning.

Careful men of means have learned to avoid this kind of speculation and they invest their money in securities which will continue to yield an income through even the most trying financial crisis. They know that they cannot expect a large interest return and at the same time have the security which they demand.

Experienced investors are regular purchasers of Guaranteed First Mortgage Certificates because they know that they will receive a 6% income with no risk to their capital.

These certificates represent first mortgages on real estate and are supported by the guaranty of the largest company of its kind outside of New York City.

They can be purchased in amounts as small as $100 and as large as $200,000. Interest is payable by check every six months. Telephone, write or call for further information.

BRITISH RAIL PLAN PROPOSED.

Intended as Alternative for Nationalization.

Workers Would be Represented on Boards.

Government Guarantees End; Fix Fares, Rates.

(A. P. FURSTON CORRESPONDENT)
LONDON, Aug. 14.—The government's railway program, intended as an alternative to nationalization of the roads, which are now subsidized, provides for the formation of the railways of England and Wales into six groups, the main group to absorb all the smaller lines. Present shareholders are to form the majority of each board of management. But each board also is to include members elected from and by the workers on the railway. Direct competition between groups is to be eliminated.

The government financial guarantee ceases and rates and fares are to be fixed, with certain safeguards for the public, so as to produce a net revenue substantially equivalent on some pre-war basis to the net revenue of all companies absorbed in the groups. The State is to take a share of surplus revenues and use it for light railway development. Wages and working conditions will be dealt with by machinery set up under the control of the Transport Ministry. The National Wage Board for Appeals is to represent equally railway managers, workers, and users, with an independent chairman. The State will have power to insist upon standardization of rolling stock and equipment.

A seventh group will control the Southern lines. The program, issued by Sir Eric Geddes, minister of transport as a White Paper, will be submitted to Parliament in a new transport bill. In case the amalgamation is not carried out voluntarily the government will seek power to compel amalgamation within a specified time.

Sir Eric's proposals generally are received with editorial disapproval by the newspapers. The Daily News says the proposals raise all the difficulties inherent in nationalization without conferring any of its benefits.

Employees at Carbondale, Pa., returning to work late after going to luncheon put the blame on two pigeons that alighted on one of the hands of the town clock during the noon hour and held the hand back for half an hour.

TWO WELLS

Carson Well No. 2, located by a prominent geologist, is within approximately three thousand feet of the Hawthorne mighty gasser. Carson Well No. 1, now drilling, is located on the Dominguez lease, within four miles of this mighty gasser.

POSITIVELY LAST OFFERING

INITIAL STOCK

at 50c PER SHARE

The famous HAWTHORNE GAS WELL broke loose a second time on Saturday, September 4th, and repeated its operation of Friday, August 13th. Thousands witnessed its mighty gas flow. Many of the stockholders of the CARSON OIL CORPORATION, which has an adjacent lease, were on the ground to witness this inspiring sight.

THE CARSON OIL CORPORATION has 863 acres in leases in the Redondo Oil Field, including a valuable lease adjacent to the Hawthorne well.

The Company has already started two wells. Well No. 1 is now operating on the Company's Dominguez Lease. The lumber is now being put on the ground for Well No. 2, adjacent to the Hawthorne Gas Well.

What this gas well is worth is shown by the statement in the El Segundo Herald of August 22nd: "At the minimum estimate is $25,000 per day, and at a maximum estimate $125,000 per day."

NO WONDER THE SHARES OF THE HAWTHORNE GAS WELL ARE BEING SOLD FOR TEN FOR ONE TODAY.

A prominent geologist, who has just made a report for the Carson Oil Corporation, states that there will be a forest of derricks surrounding the Hawthorne well. WRITE FOR THE REPORT; also a reprint from the El Segundo Herald, and a map of the REDONDO OIL FIELD.

ABOUT THE LEAGUE.
The speaker said America should catch the spirit of the life of Lafayette and the French people and from them draw inspiration for the future, inspiration with which to combat the foes of peace, liberty and righteousness. He expressed the belief that the League of Nations is the most important matter that has come before mankind for settlement since civilization began, and said,
"It holds the greatest hope for man since the organization of government for his protection."

Judge Haddock discussed the League from a nonpartisan point of view and said, "I am whole-heartedly in favor of the League without reservations if possible, but with them if necessary." He declared the League provides for ruling the world by appeal to a sense of justice, forms the basis for co-operation and international justice and "is a world recognition of the commandment 'Thou shalt not kill.'"

Admiral Spencer Wood, who represented the Navy, while Col. Blakely represented the Army, told of America's obligation to France for assistance during the Revolution and of this nation's effort to repay that obligation during the World War.
He said, "Gen. Pershing spoke for all Americans when he stood at the tomb of Lafayette."

Overlordship Coming.

Numerous societies celebrated Lafayette Day with picnics. At Eagle Rock Park the Caledonian Club held an outing that was enlivened by the presence of several dozen young men and women in Scottish costumes. Representatives of several clubs were present and these could readily be recognized by the initiated by the different tartan worn. A bagpipe band played and a basket luncheon was partaken of at noon.
Former residents of Fort Wayne and Allen county, Indiana, gathered at Hollenbeck Park at 12:30 p.m.
During the afternoon music was furnished by an orchestra, addresses were made by prominent members of the society, and games were played by young and old.

At Sycamore Grove former residents of Oskaloosa, Iowa, held an all-day picnic. During the morning visitors registered, and noon lunches were served, and in the afternoon there was a program of speeches, singing and orchestra music.

One of the largest gatherings of the day was at Lincoln Park, where the Komusko Society of Indiana held its annual picnic. Hundreds of former residents of the Hoosier State, spent the day at the park, and in addition many friends of these from the eastern county were present.
An interesting program was given, luncheon was served on the park tables, and free coffee was supplied to all who cared for it.

At Exposition Park, former residents of Kentucky, Ill., held an annual outing. Music by an orchestra composed of former residents of that place, solo and mass singing furnished the principal entertainment. There were also several speeches.

LABOR AT SELIG ZOO.
Labor as a supergovernment and the workman as the price fixer of the future were the glittering lures dangled before 3000 union men and their families at Selig Zoo Park yesterday by Glenn E. Plumb of Washington, D. C., author of the Plumb plan of railroad control, and George Isaacs of London, general secretary of the Operating Printers and Assistants' Society of Great Britain.

"Great Britain must have an independent labor political organization," said Mr. Isaacs, "before we can get anything for ourselves. We are going to win the next election, but one, and labor will govern Great Britain. At the next election we will get our majority."

The question has often been asked: "Can labor govern?" We don't answer, "Wait and see," but we are sure of the answer. "We have the ball at our feet."

Mr. Plumb went further, saying:
"We realize the position of the labor problem in this country. It has reached through politics. We have just reached that realization. Labor, organized and unorganized, constitutes 90 per cent of all the people of the United States. The power is ours.
Labor represents statesmanship and greater freedom, not protection to privilege."

He told his hearers that labor should not be sold as a commodity, but it should be treated as an element of human effort. Organized labor has got to take command of price, as well as wages, he declared.

"Not until men engaged in production control the price of what they produce for the benefit of men who consume it, will we reach the solution of the problem," he said.
"When we do that, labor is no longer a commodity, but it is an investment on par with capital."

The Holmakers' and Ironworkers'

10,000 Pairs Women's Silk Stockings!

In our first great annual September hosiery sale, we plan to establish a precedent for future years, both as to quality and lowest prices!

Think of it—10,000 pairs of women's stockings, at every pair at a lowered price!

Silk Stockings at 2.15

One of the best values of the entire sale are these heavy pure silk stockings, full fashioned, with the lisle tops, toes and heels. Colors which are included at this price are black, white and seal brown—2.15 a pair.

Silk Stockings at 1.45

These, too, are pure silk, semi-fashioned, having seamless foot, but the seamed leg reinforced lisle soles, toes and heels. This is one of the features as this stocking has proved to be one of the most popular that we have in stock.

Silk Stockings at 2.45

Lustrous, ingrain, all silk stockings, full fashioned, black and white. A stocking of this quality would nearly cost a great deal more, as you will realize the moment that you see it.

Heavy Silk Stockings, 1.65

Semi-fashioned, with the lisle tops, soles, toes and heels, in black, white and seal brown. A quality that is very popular at its original price. In the sale—1.65.

Lace Silk Stockings, 3.95

Dainty patterns in both the lace boot and the all-over lace styles in black only. Never was there a time when lace hose was more popular—so this event will come as a great surprise to women.

Women's Light Weight Lisle Stockings at 65c

Light weight, mercerized stockings in both the regular and outsize sizes. Made with the seamless foot and the seamed leg.
Colors in the lot are black, white and seal brown. Because of the regular demand for these particular stockings we consider this one of the most important announcements we could make.
